Presentation and discussion TOPIC: The connection between recycling and growing food

Two local experts, one in edible gardens and one in waste diversion, will share what's going on currently in Arlington and where there are areas of great potential.

Presenters Ben Barkan, founder of Home Harvest, and Charlotte Milan, Arlington's Recycling Coordinator, will discuss how school gardens, home gardens and community gardens are benefiting from the increased interest in growing our own food as well as the growing sensitivity to food waste.
